Carrollton Journal: They have an ordinance to move which requires wood haulers to have their wood measured, and to receive a ticket from the measurer, giving the exact measure before they can sell their wood. A petition for the same purpose was circulated in this city several weeks ago. It received numerous signatures, since which time we have never heard from it. Such an ordinance is a good thing for any town where wood sells like it does in Carrollton. What became of the petition?

Brunswick News: B. K. Bruce, after spending Christmas with the family of his father, J. P. Bruce, of this vicinity, and other relatives and friends, returned, this week, to his studies at the State University, Lawrence, Kansas, where he has been a student for three years and from which he expects to graduate in June. He is a studious young man, stands high in his class, and will undoubtedly achieve distinction in whatever pursuit he may choose when his school days are over. He is a nephew and namesake of the Register of the Treasury, Branch K. Bruce, and possesses in a great degree the talent, merit and ambition that have made the Bruce family prominent in the history of the colored race and of the country.

The famous Oakes Bros. Concert troupe have again consented to pay our city a visit. They will show at the City Hall in this city, next Thursday evening, January 19. No one should fail to attend, as this will be one of the rarest musical treats our citizens have ever enjoyed. When they were here before they astonished and delighted their large audience. This time they will do even more than that, as many attractions have been added since this company visited us. Reserved seats tickets 50 cents, on sale at the Post Office News Stand.

W. A. Morton in the Hamilton Hamiltonian: It is a business custom on New Year's day to post the accounts of the year's business and strike a balance; the custom extends to other things than trade, especially with those whose sensibilities are not dwarfed—paralyzed. The man who has no funds placed to his credit as the result of business energy, may have added to his store of knowledge; he may have by christian example and good deeds, gained credit on the Book kept by an immortal Hand; or he may have kept a few of the good resolves formed at the beginning of the departed year, so that bright spots as well as blurs stand on the record. This is something, though it is not dollars and cents. It is progression. It is not lounging by the wayside with the memories of lost opportunities trooping by in ghostlike procession; nor is it the backward step impelled by reckless loungings and envious broodings. There is a debt and credit side to social affairs as well as in business dealing. There is a morality given either to the one side or the other by every human life, however lowly or insignificant it may be—there is no human creature but who has the power to cast a loaden sky, or shed a ray of light in his own immediate presence; not one who shall not add to or detract from the sum of human happiness as the New Year wears on.

Better San-Burst.

Died.

On Saturday last, Gen. F. A. Jones, Senior Editor of the Macon Republican.

General Jones had been a sufferer for number of years, from the effect of wounds received during the late war, and of late had become very feeble, and "sawing the end from afar," he, with his devoted wife, started, on Friday last, to the home of his aged mother, in the State of Pennsylvania, hoping the change of climate and a mother's loving care would be beneficial to him. But, alas his hopes were not realized. On Sunday morning a telegram was received at Macon, stating that he was dead, having died while en route, and just before the train upon which he was a passenger, entered the city of Toledo, Ohio. This sad news was a shock to his numerous friends in Macon, and his bereaved wife has the heartfelt sympathy of the entire community.

A GIFT FROM HEAVEN.

No Medicine Stands Higher Than Marsh's Golden Balsam.

"For Consumption of the Lungs, I know of no medicine that stands higher than Marsh's Golden Balsam. It will cure where cures are possible." (H. L. Smith, Fort Scott, Kansas.)

"One year ago I caught a severe cold, which settled on my lungs. I tried many remedies without getting relief, until I used your GOLDEN BALSAM. I am now well, having used only two bottles. I consider it a gift from heaven." Mrs. James Luce, Omaha, Nebraska.

"Having heard your GOLDEN BALSAM highly spoken of I bought a bottle for my wife, who had taken a severe cold, which affected her throat and lungs. I can now join with others in its praise, for it quickly cured her." (J. M. Scott, Chillicothe, Mo.)

MARSH'S GOLDEN BALSAM is for sale by Vincent & Thornton, Chillicothe, and by prominent dealers everywhere. Large bottles 50 cents and $1.00. Don't fail to try it.

The Small-Pox and the Public.

Last week we reported the city free from small-pox—since then two cases have appeared. Those are today, the only ones in Chillicothe.

It is now over two months since the disease first appeared. Its first appearance was in the extreme southern portion of the city. The two cases now are in that immediate neighborhood, nearly a mile from the public square. They are now both in one house, completely isolated and under rigid quarantine.

As we stated before the utmost care is being taken by our Board of Health and the city authorities to prevent a spread of the disease. Among our own citizens, very little apprehension is felt as will be soon by the fact that the attendance at our Public Schools is as large as at any time in their history.

Respectfully,

A. McVEY,

S. L. HARRIS,

S. F. BOYCE,

C. H. MANSUR,

J. T. JOHNSON.

A Leading Professor Speaking of Sensible People.

Dr. S., the prominent Eastern medical lecturer, says: "Every day sensible people come to me complaining of their health being broken down. The answers to my inquiries always are—'what I surmise—nature'—have been totally disregarded; consequently the blood, the stream of life, becomes contaminated—and as a result of this blood poisoning, I find dyspepsia and disorders of the heart, lungs, liver, and kidneys, accompanied by headache, nervous debility, and other impaired organic portions, often verging on paralysis. In order to keep the digestive organs in proper health and strength, I and my friends in the profession have recommended Brown's Iron Bitters—they act so mildly and soothingly, never leaving any unpleasant after-effects, strengthening the organs of digestion, and permanently removing every symptom of ill health, languor and debility. No remedy in the East gives such good satisfaction as Brown's Iron Bitters, and I can assure you for nothing. Don't be persuaded to use a substitute. This remedy contains no alcohol and is the only preparation of iron that does not blacken the teeth."—SEN.

Downings.

DAWS, Mo., Jan. 9, 1882.

Good morning, Mr. CHAVIS, and a happy New Year.

The good people of Daws are now happy and in the busy whirl of social enjoyment, in about the following order: Of course, Christmas was ushered with a grand Christmas Tree, as usual, and the bright little ones were all the happy recipients of some nice presents, the gift of old Chris.

The young people of the vicinity of the Barry school house meet every week to discuss the important problems of the day, and they seem to be improving the opportunity offered. Some of the villagers of Daws are enjoying the same kind of recreation and profit.

On last Wednesday, Rev. H. M. Richardson was made happy by the receipt of $104.75 in the form of a donation from the people of his charge and the neighborhood generally. Two-thirds of the amount was in the form of that necessary evil, "money." The large cake voted off to the prettiest young lady, brought $47.30, Miss Fannie Richardson being the donor of the sum to $57.75.

On to-morrow evening there will be a concert at the church in Daws, under the management of the Daws Band. We expect some fine music, both vocal and instrumental.

We almost forgot to mention the meeting held on January 1st, by the American Bible Society, at the Welsh M. E. Church, at eleven o'clock, A. M. The society met to transact such business as might be brought before them for consideration. The following officers were elected for the coming year: Rev. M. E. Davis, president; H. C. Hughes, vice president; T. Griffith, secretary; W. J. Jones, treasurer. After the meeting consisted of recitations by the children, songs by the choir and appropriate speeches by some of the older members. A similar meeting was also held in the evening. All passed off nicely and every body was pleased.

Yours, &c.,

V. D. I.

CREAM RIDGE, Jan. 9th, 1882.

EDITOR CRISIS:—Pleasant weather.

Roads are in a bad condition. A big dinner at Dr. A. T. Williams, on Thursday. Many of the high toned ones of Centerville were present. Turkeys, chickens, pies, cakes and puddings were in abundance. Everyone was happy. Improvements seem to be the order of the day among our enterprising farmers. Mr. E. O'Hara has
